

Garfield Gini-Newman

Garfield Gini-Newman is a national consultant with The Critical Thinking Consortium, lecturer at OISE/University of Toronto, and the author of seven books.

Garfield's primary area of research involves the pedagogy of critical thinking and ways to embed critical thinking in classrooms from kindergarten to graduate school. He has an interest in brain research and effective assessment practice, with a focus on building powerful curricula grounded in the effective use of both formative and summative assessment with an emphasis on assessing thinking.

Garfield was a finalist for the Governor General's Award for Excellence in Teaching History and has been nominated for his work in the pre-service program at OISE.
