

Great Seneca Creek's Family Reading Night

Good readers read like good writers!

Teal Station- Intermediate Reading Workshop

Outcome: The parents and students will listen to a passage and self-monitor their reading comprehension.

Teachers: Ms. Erin Swift and Ms. Kristin Sagona
Time: 30 minutes

Why is it important? Inferring dominates virtually all of comprehension. Self-monitoring using sticky notes can help target comprehension. Strategies That Work by Harvey and Goudv

Self-monitoring Using Sticky Notes

Children can monitor their reading by using sticky notes in selected places of text. The sticky notes can extend thinking during comprehension discussions. Teach and model appropriate uses of sticky notes for a specific purpose below. Guide your child to apply and internalize the use of sticky notes independently.

- Where the author takes your breath away.
- Where you are dazzled.
- Where the text fills you with wonder.
- Where you want to linger.
- Where you could hold a celebration.
- Where you have questions.
- Where you have a HUNCH (prediction, connection, discovery).
- Where you wish you knew more.
- Where you would like to do some research or inquiry.
- Where you discover a fact worth remembering.
- Where you hear a character speak to you in your head.
- Where you used a reading strategy.
- Where you notice a pattern or make a connection.
- Where you think it is a good place to STOP and TALK.
- Where you want to capture words, phrases, leads.