

Student Article: The Demoliton of Glenallan By: Maggie Welsh

Ba-Boom! Crash! BAM! Wow, what a sight to see as Glenallan slowly gets destroyed. If you look closely, you see that the portables, office, many classrooms and the parking lot are gone. You can see that most of the school has been destroyed. The gym is still standing but only a quarter of the school is left. Soon it will be gone completely. The workers are like busy bees as they hover around their diggers, cranes, bulldozers, and dump trucks. Glenallan was a nice school, I remember lots of memories. It's 46 years old now, but at 46 its time for a new Glenallan. Since we moved to Fairland, everyone wants to capture a glimpse of Glenallan while it is still standing. Better hurry before Ole' Glenallan is gone forever. Let's hope the new Glenallan will turn out the same or even better.
