Click, click goes the buttons on the controller.

Some games feel like you're doing the game in real life.

Others games feel like watching a turtle trying to run.

When playing a good video game, it's like eating a good sandwich.

People say playing video games are not good for you.

I believe that is a false answer.

Now, you should know how video game goes and flows.

It flows like waves from the sea.

If you play a video game very long you get stuck in a trance and you never come out.

But if you control yourself you can become the best gamer you can be.

So, if want to be a good gamer (like me) you have to play video games a lot.

But remember that playing video games can be very tricky.

So if you play the games right you will be all right.
