

AUTHOR EVENT

Attracting Hummingbirds and Butterflies to YOUR backyard

with Connie Toops

Sunday, February 26

2:00-3pm

Brookside Garden Auditorium***

Butterflies and hummingbirds are among the most colorful creatures to appear in our backyards – but often their visits are brief, leading us to wish they would stay longer.

Connie Toops, co-author and principal photographer of Hummingbirds and Butterflies, a new book in the Peterson field guide/bird watcher's Digest Backyard Birding series, can help. She's been gardening for wildlife for years, and knows the best plants and features to attract these colorful sprites.

Join Connie for an informative talk, illustrated by her award-winning images, which will bring hummingbirds and butterflies into your yard and into your heart.

Please reserve your seat online at

www.ParkPASS.org (#174999)

Admission is $5 for the general public.

Free for Nature Center and Brookside Garden volunteers. Volunteers do not need to register online. Please contact Anna Robinson at Black Hill Visitor center to reserve your seat, 301-528-3492.

*Brookside Garden Auditorium is located in the Visitor Center at 1800 Glenallan Ave., Wheaton, MD