

The required tests for Job Banding Career Advancement are offered online through Brainbench. Each Brainbench test has so many questions for each skill being assessed that no two tests will ever contain the exact same questions. Therefore, the required tests listed below are also available to all ITSS employees for review and practice.

A proctored test is the only instance of the required test that counts toward career advancement. Employees who want to take a proctored test to meet the testing requirement for Job Banding Career Advancement should contact Paul McCabe, Division of Innovative Technology, via email at Paul_McCabe@mcpsmd.org

The titles of the required tests for advancement at each level are as follows. All tests require a score at the proficient level, which is 2.51 or higher.
