

Helping to recreate our Nation each day through Character Education in our schools and ethical practices in business and community.

Baltimore, MD — The Maryland Center for Character Education at Stevenson University (MCCE@SU) is dedicated to making an ethical difference in the lives of individuals and the entire community through education. The Center encourages teachers and administrators, in public and private schools to teach, model, and reinforce moral values and ethical behavior.

On Thursday, October 8th the Maryland Center for Character Education at Stevenson University (MCCE@SU) will be holding their annual Awards Luncheon and Program at Stevenson University, Owings Mills Campus, Rockland Center.

In partnership with the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) and CHARACTER.ORG the National Character Education organization out of Washington D.C., MCCE@SU will honor 70 schools from throughout Maryland. The awards program recognizes schools or districts that demonstrate an outstanding character education initiative yielding positive results in student behavior, school climate, and academic performance. This year along with the help of representatives from CHARACTER.ORG we will be recognizing Francis Scott Key Middle, of Montgomery County as a 2015 State School of Character (SSOC) winner. We are also proud to announce that Thomas W. Pyle Middle of Montgomery County will receive a “2014 – 2015 School of the Year” award.

For further information about the Awards Luncheon and Program, please contact Linda Muska, Executive Coordinator for the Maryland Center for Character Education at Stevenson University MCCEcharacter@aol.com or visit our website at www.mdctrcharacter.org.