Shannon Jones –

Special Education Paraeducator

Hello Bullfrog Family!

My name is Shannon Jones and I am a Special Ed Paraeducator at Great Seneca Creek. This is my third year working for MCPS and am very excited to be a part of the Great Seneca Creek family. Prior to working for the county, I worked in the Marketing/Public Relation sector for several years. I have a Bachelor of Arts degree in English, a Master's degree in Management, and am currently pursuing my second Master's degree in School Counseling.

I enjoy working at Great Seneca Creek because I get to encourage our future leaders to be great thinkers and to adopt a love of learning, a philosophy that is very dear to my heart. I'm very active at the Creek. Currently, I just finished helping out with our Black History Month program where our bullfrogs did a fantastic job honoring African American figures. Some students may also know me from school clubs, such as Girls Allowed, the Leader in Me, or previous clubs like Girls Rock and Lego Club.

In my spare time, I enjoy writing. I published my first book in 2011, titled Why Do I Exist, and just recently published my children's book titled, That's Just Me!, which was featured in the local Gazette. I enjoy spending quality time with my family and friends. I'm a proud Bullfrog mom of a 4th grader and Kindergartner. I am so happy to be a part of the Bullfrog family and look forward to an amazing remaining year!
