

Highland View's Family Reading Night

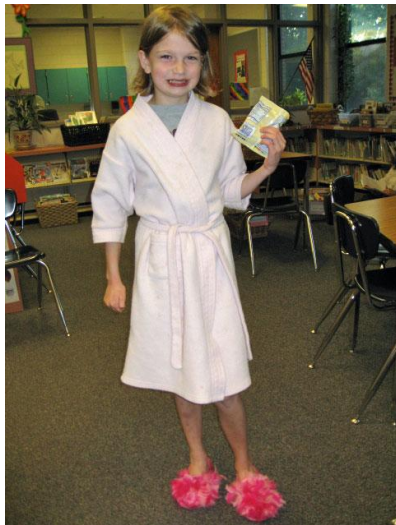

By Julia Meyers, Reading Specialist

Close to 100 students dressed in their pajamas came with their families to celebrate Family Reading Night on Tuesday, May 25 from 7:00 PM to 8:00 PM. with the theme of bedtime stories. The evening began with our very own storyteller, Dr. Covington, our Media Specialist.

After listening to the story, the students enjoyed reading their favorite books with their families in their grade level classrooms. Classroom teachers shared a special bedtime story with the students, as family members listened on, and everyone was treated to milk and cookies. Door prizes were awarded to students in each grade. Students heard a sneak preview of the 2010 Highland View summer reading incentive program entitled “Reading and Writing are Thrilling!”

The families were serenaded out of the building to the singing of Ms. Toth and Mr. Feffer, two of our second grade teachers, accompanied by the lively guitar music of Mr. Clements and Mr. Croft, Highland View parents. A good time was had by all!

Students arrived dressed in pajamas and some brought their favorite stuffed animals along.

Principal, Ms. Dardarian greets students.

Assistant Principal, Ms. Harrison welcomes students.

Guidance Counselor, Ms. Jones, chats with students about Reading Night.

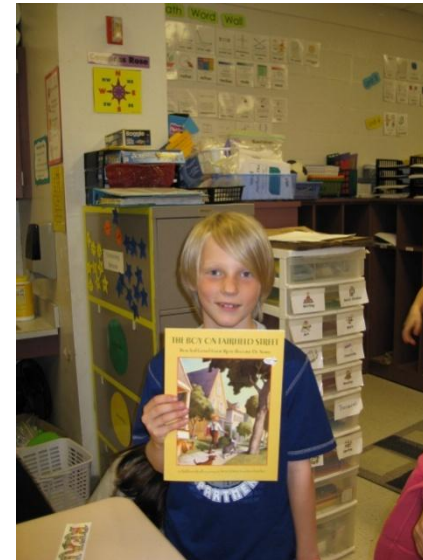

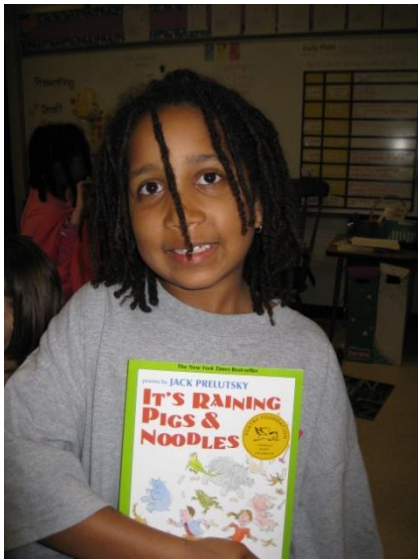

The audience is captivated by Dr. Covington's story.

Highland View Families enjoy an evening reading with their families and friends.
