

This is how the first page of your paper should be formatted and how it should look:

Elizabeth L. Angeli

Professor Patricia Sullivan

English 624

14 December 2008

This should be in the body of your paper, on the first page only.

Your last name and the page number should be in the header. Use the "Insert Page Number" command.

Angeli 1

Toward a Recovery of Nineteenth Century Farming Handbooks

While researching texts written about nineteenth century farming, I found a few authors who published books about the literature of nineteenth century farming, particularly agricultural journals, newspapers, pamphlets, and brochures. These authors often placed the farming lit by discussing the important events in ag published (see Demaree, for example).

However, while these authors discuss journals, newspapers, pamphlets, and brochures, I could not ce of farming knowledge: farming har e into the agricultural literature discussion

by connecting three agricultural handbooks from the nineteenth century with nineteenth century agricultural history.

To achieve this goal, I have o have sub-sections. In the first section nineteenth century agricultural histor scientific new knowledge, and farming's influence on education. In the second section, I discuss three nineteenth century farming handbooks in connection with the important events described in the first section. I end my paper with a third section that offers research questions that could be answered in future versions of this paper and

All text should be Times New Roman 12-point font, double spaced (2.0)

All margins, top, bottom, left, and right, should be 1 inch

Here are the steps to set up your name and page number:

1. Double-click at top of page to open header.
2. Click on "Page Number" on top menu bar.
3. Select "Top of Page," then "Plain Number 3."
4. Type your last name and put a space after it.
5. Click on "Close Header."