

Welcome to Module 4

At this point we are well into the course. Hopefully you've been able to start implementing a few new ideas to benefit your English Language Learners.

In this fourth module, you will review two instructional approaches for second language acquisition.

You will also explore concepts and strategies that will help you strengthen the Cognitive Academic Language of your English Language Learners.

Please click on the Review/Preview button to the right for a brief introduction.

Good luck and I'll see you again in Module 5!
