

Panther Press

Welcome to the first edition of the Panther Press!

We are very excited to have released the first edition of the Panther Press. We are sure that you will enjoy it. We have a variety of categories that are very interesting. For example we have a very entertaining section for our readers; we also have some jokes that will make you laugh your socks off. Since this is the first edition of our newspaper, we obviously have a lot of ideas but unfortunately we are limited to space. So we did our best to include everything. We hope you enjoy the Panther Press.

TOP STORY THIS MONTH

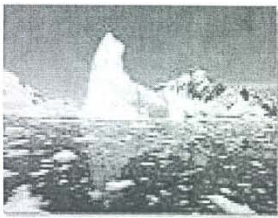

Did you see Mr. Carbonaro break dancing if you didn't, then look inside this edition to find out what happened. This story is on the next page where you'll also find a very interesting article about global warming. We hope you enjoy!

Current events

- Global Warming Every day gets worse; hundreds of polar ice caps are slowly melting each day. Arctic animals are in grave danger. Spread the word. If GLOBAL WARMING gets any worse there could be various problems, such as floods and a chance of some Arctic animals being extinct it could also lower the strength of our atmosphere! Ways you could help stop global warming are:

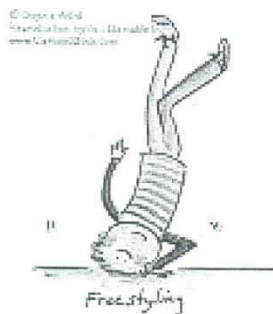

- Limit your electricity usage
- Limit your usage of cars\gas
- Always recycle cans, bottles, paper
- Try to use less water

We hope you consider trying the above!

➤ Mr. Carbonaro Break Dancing

Did you see Mr. Carbonaro break dancing? Well if you didn't then you missed something spectacular, but don't worry because we will recap every second of that amazing moment. First the people in the Peace Production chose Mr. Carbonaro without a doubt! When Mr. C got up he did a perfect worm and then he did a canon ball on the ground (by the way it was awesome!), and after that spectacular move he started to spin around on the ground! Then he finished it off with a pose (which also was awesome!) If you missed it well we feel bad for you!(also Jarrad Radin did a tight back flip!)

CAPS DOING IT AGAIN

Washington Capitals (hockey) are having a great year! Last year was the same. All Caps fans keep watching Caps games to see if they are heading into the play-offs. Their goalie Jose Theodore is almost stopping the puck twenty four seven! The Caps have a great coach named Bruce Boudreau and some star players like Alexander Ovechkin , Nick Backstrom, and Alexander Semin. Watch out for other great players Caps fans. Remember Caps fans, Caps are doing it again.

10-1 Tennessee

The Tennessee Titans are the only undefeated football team in the NFL As of week 11. They played and have beat Jacksonville Jaguars, Cincinnati Bengals, Houston Texans, Minnesota Vikings, Baltimore Ravens, Kansas City Chiefs, Indianapolis Colts, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears, and the Jacksonville Jaguars. In week 12 the Titans were demolished by the New York Jets. The score was 34-13. Now the Giants and the Titans are tied in first place with a record of 10-1.

Philadelphia Flyers

The Philadelphia Flyers from the beginning of the season and their 0-3-3 record to 14-6-6 is an amazing way from the beginning of the season to right now. They improved a lot and with Jeff Carter (the top scorer in the NHL) have been scoring and winning like crazy! With the improvement of their goaltending they have not let as many goals in their past games. With Joffrey Lupul on fire they been scoring a lot more goals to add on to Jeff Carter's. Simone Gagne (sixth in the NHL in goals) has also been a hot shot. Mike Richards has been awesome on the penalty kill and in short handed goals.

The World Series champs the Phillies

The fighting Phillies [national league] beat the Tampa Bay Rays [American league] 4 games to 1 to win the World Series. The Rays needed Evan Longoria and Carlos Pena to start hitting if they wanted to win. Unfortunately they didn't so the Rays lost.
