- Cyberbullying
Here's how to prevent or stop cyberbullying through conversations.
- Talk to Your Kids
Chatting with kids about being online is important. Your kids are counting on you to share what you know.
- Kids and Computer Security: If your kids are online, they're old enough to know about computer security practices, phishing, P2P file-sharing, and apps.
- Kids and Mobile Phones: Do your kids use a mobile phone? A little guidance can go a long way.
- Kids and Socializing Online: Have you and your kids talked about social networking yet? Here are some conversation starters.
- Kids and Virtual Worlds: Are your kids accessing online worlds intended for adults?
- Kids: Texting and Sexting: Texting is a way of life. Here are some tips for talking to your kids about texting.
- Kids, Parents, and Video Games: Tools like game ratings and parental controls can help you learn about the games your kids want to play — and help you make sure they're playing according to your rules.
- Parental Controls: Read about parental control options for those who want to monitor or limit their kids' online activity.
- Protecting Your Child's Privacy Online: Here's information about parents' rights under the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA).
