An Evening to Celebrate the Honorable Esther P. Gelman, a fund-raising reception

On the evening of Tuesday, April 17, 2007, a reception was co-chaired by Mrs. Pennie Abramson and Ms. Sandra Shmookler to honor Esther P. Gelman and raise funds for a scholarship fund. Jon Enten, Mel Leshinsky, and Barry Scher were also part of the planning committee.

The reception was held at the Woodmont Country Club in Rockville, Maryland. Foundation members joined together to hold the fund-raiser to celebrate the Honorable Esther P. Gelman. Mrs. Gelman was an elected official in Montgomery County Maryland for 12 years, serving on the Montgomery County Council for eight years and for four years prior to that as a member of the Maryland National Capitol Park & Planning Commission and the Montgomery County Planning Commission.

Mrs. Gelman was responsible, at the request of Dr. Paul L. Vance, when he was superintendent of schools in Montgomery County, to help establish the MCPS Educational Foundation. Since that time, she has demonstrated dedicated commitment to furthering the education of the graduating MCPS students who have financial needs.

Mr. Barry Scher was the Master of Ceremony for the event and provided a wonderful introduction with a video about Mrs. Gelman. The video was produced by MCPS. Mrs. Gelman was awarded several citations, from Congressman Chris Van Hollen; County Executive Isiah Leggett; and Congressman Albert R. Wynn, for her dedicated efforts to higher education and the MCPS Educational Foundation. Dr. Jerry Weast, superintendent of schools, congratulated Mrs. Gelman for her perseverance, dedication, generosity, and caring, having helped so many children achieve higher levels of education.

Many businesses, such as AIG Valic, the Abramson Family, James Cafritz Inc., CISCO Systems, Enten & Associates, Fitzgerald Auto Malls, Giant, Mobile Medical Care, The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation, PEPCO, ProFunds, and countless friends rallied to express their appreciation.

Valia Vassila, teacher, and students from Beverly Farms Elementary entertained the guests with a brief presentation of their opera. In addition, the evening’s entertainment included a string quartet from Walter Johnson High School (WJHS).

The event was a tremendous success, enjoyed by all who attended. Everyone was delighted to know that so many students will benefit from the scholarships and programs that will be awarded due to this event.

Creating an Original Opera

A small grant was awarded to the Beverly Farms Elementary School for 2006-2007 for the “Creating Original Opera” program. Throughout the program, thirty-two fifth grade students of various racial and ethnic backgrounds as well as varied abilities and skill levels were responsible for developing a theme, thesis, and characters for their own original opera. For three hours each week, students participated in writing, composing music, constructing sets, building lights, designing costumes, acting, applying makeup, blocking and movement, and managing the student company. In May, the opera was performed twice for the student body and twice for the community. Through the “Creating Original Opera” process, the students learned several different life skills such as taking responsibility, solving problems, organizational techniques, and ways to communicate effectively.

Updating Maps and Globes

At Viers Mill Elementary School, Barbara Hlavka, media specialist, was awarded a Small Grant in 2006 to refurbish the school’s seriously outdated map and globe collection. Many of the maps were at least seventeen-years-old and the globes were outdated by twelve years. The purpose of this project was to update these materials beginning with one fourth grade and one fifth grade classroom. The classrooms that received these materials were based on the number of special needs and ESOL students in the homerooms. Other students also benefited when regrouping occurred in reading/language arts classes. Both of these classes are targeted for special education support through our new home school model.

Teachers noted that the globes attracted students during classroom transitions, indoor recess, and before school. Students would independently use the globe to locate various countries around the world.

These maps/globes are recent enough that they even show Eritrea (just above Ethiopia) the home country of several of the school’s students. To see the name of their families’ country and its outline delighted students. Many students and their immediate families came from various countries in Central America. They took special pride in locating their countries of origin.

These materials made it easier to make concepts more tangible for students. On raised relief globes, students can actually feel and see the mountain ranges projecting from the earth’s surface. On the physical globe the depths of the ocean floor are also vivid so students can see that islands are actually mountain tops reaching above the level of the ocean rather than floating land masses.

From the youngest to the oldest students, these vivid globes were a constant source of attraction and discussion. The educators at Viers Mill Elementary will continue to find ways to bring these same benefits to other classrooms that are still lacking current materials.
Extended Hours Technology Grants

The MCPS Educational Foundation, Inc., awarded Extended Technology Hours Grants totaling $19,113 to eight schools in November 2006. These grants provide funds for the schools to open computer labs and/or research and learning hubs to students and their parents or guardians one or more evenings a week. The purpose of the grants are to allow students an opportunity to build on technology skills, research strategies, and curricular content they are learning in school, while encouraging parent involvement.

To receive funds, interested schools submitted a written application to the Foundation detailing how they would organize an evening computer program. In selecting the recipients, the Foundation considered how the applicants would organize and deliver the program and the extent to which the schools would be able to establish community partnerships that would provide funding in the future.

“Providing after hours family access to computer-based information and communication will leverage existing equipment, software and Internet resources for both students and their families,” stated Chief Operating Officer Larry Bowers.

The 2006-2007 grant recipients, project titles, and contact person or persons at each school are:

Montgomery Blair HS—Blair After Hours, $2,987, E. Susan Payne-Madden

Gaithersburg HS—GHS Parent Student Computer Connections $3,000, Catharine M. Chenoweth

Gaithersburg Middle School—Parent Edline Access Program, $540, Lola Rogers

A. Mario Loiderman MS—The Digital Den, $2,700, Brian Betts

Northwood HS—Technology, $3,000, Loretta Kavanaugh

Shady Grove MS—Timberwolf Technology Den, $2,290, Christine Oxenford and Kim Skufca

Springbrook HS—Community Technology Support, $2,997, Cynthia Strong

Weller Road ES—Parent Technology Outreach Program, $1,599, Tessa Weiss

Parent Technology Outreach Program Grant

The program was designed to give parents of Weller Road students a chance to learn basic computer skills that would be needed for everyday use and for the workforce. Many of the parents who have come to the class had very little computer experience or none at all. Each of the “students” had a chance to work at their ability level to learn programs such as Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and Publisher. The students also learned to use the Internet and within the Internet they learned to use a search engine (Google) and places they can go to help their children (such as homework help, online encyclopedias, and wonderful online games and activities to help their children).

There were two sessions to this course. In the first session while students were taught to use the Internet they also were given a chance to set up an email account and were taught how to send, receive, and forward emails, as well as how to add an attachment.

Child care and a translator (Spanish) was available to the parents. This made the class much more available to the parents at each session. The class sizes have ranged from 8-15 parents per class.

Montgomery County Public Schools Educational Foundation: A Few Cents Today Makes A Lot of Sense Tomorrow

Few places in the nation value education more than Montgomery County. Residents demand quality public schools and leadership that provides excellence. Citizens are willing to pay for top-notch instruction. Many students continue their formal studies at some of the most prestigious colleges and universities in the nation. Almost all seek additional education and training to enter the work world.

Despite a committed Board of Education, County Council, county executive, and superintendent, there is only so much money available from local, state, and federal sources. While these tax dollars provide a solid and contemporary curriculum and instructional program, there isn’t enough to underwrite the “extras” that so many children need. These extras often mean the difference between an average student or an excellent one.

That’s why the MCPS Educational Foundation seeks funds to provide academic-enriching opportunities. With these funds, talented students are able to participate in advanced programs, many of which are available only in the Washington, D.C. area; struggling students are able to secure help from mentors and special programs; and instructors can become master teachers through specialized internships.

The Foundation is able to make a big difference as a result of the money it receives from philanthropic organizations, government agencies, corporations, local businesses, and committed individuals. All know the value of a good education and the benefit of having knowledgeable people on the job. It is a dynamic combination for everyone.
