Library Classes

The kindergarten classes will be reading stories about bears and identifying animal features.

First grade classes will be reading books by author Diana de Groat. We will be focusing on the author’s purpose.

Second grade will be reading stories about traveling around the world. We will identify places of interest on the seven continents.

---

Information Literacy Skill

How are books arranged in the media center?

Every book has a label on the spine of the book so they can be arranged on the shelves in the correct location and order. The spine label can be found at the bottom of the books’ spine. A call number is written on the spine label.

A call number is a group of numbers and/or letters put together to tell you where in the library to find your book.

The books in the fiction section will have two letters on the spine label. The one on the top will be an E for Everybody books or picture books. The letter on the bottom will match the author’s last name.

The books in the non-fiction section will have numbers on the top and letters on the bottom. The numbers are the Dewey Decimal section number. The bottom letters match the author’s last name.

The fiction books are on the shelves in alphabetical order by the author’s last name.

The non-fiction books are on the shelves in number order and then in alphabetical order within the number group.

---

Take a Look at These Books!

Ant and Grasshopper by Luli Gray

The Story of Snow: The Science of Winter’s Wonder by Mark Cassino

Snow Day by Pat Lakin

---

December Happenings

Thrift Store – December 13th from 5:00 – 7:00